Introduction to Safeguarding

A training course for the adventure sector - FREE TO AIM MEMBERS

Your organisation's safeguarding duties are arguably the most important, so ensuring your safeguarding leads and deputies are compliant with current legislation is paramount.

The team at Pharos Response have significant experience in advising adventure activity providers and schools following serious safeguarding incidents and sadly, this has increased over the past two years. This training is designed to highlight the activity provider's legal duties and responsibilities regarding safeguarding, some key issues to be aware of and the common pitfalls to avoid. This course will shine a light on current legislation to help ensure you are up-to-date and compliant.

This course will cover:

- Key legislation and updates
- The role of the 'designated person'
- Working with other organisations' safeguarding professionals
- How to supervise and support staff in recognising and responding to safeguarding issues
- How to recognise, respond, report, record and refer safeguarding cases
- Common pitfalls to avoid and top tips for good practice.

An accredited CPD certificate will be issued for each attendee, helping demonstrate your organisation's commitment to training.
