Online CONFERENCE 14th October 2023

Shared vision for a better world

INTRODUCTION

The IOL has 'Standards' as one of its 4 key priorities, along with Community, Workforce and Voice. As the charity for professionals in Outdoor Learning, the IOL works to develop and define quality standards which includes supporting research and promoting good practice.

In 2023 the World Standards
Day the emphasis is on UN
2030 Sustainable Development Goals. The IOL has sustainability as a 'Golden Thread' and is working to make planetary and organisational sustainability run through all we do.

Joining up with World Standards Day for the IOL Annual Conference will make the day relevant, packed full of useful content and engaging for us as a community - and in a more sustainable online way.

Using a new online fully featured platform is a significantly positive development that will also be more sustainable by reducing the carbon footprint, travel, costs and time. Online allows us to offer low-cost delegate rates and offer places to many more members and students, and enables attendance from our International Members.

ABOUT OUR SPEAKERS

Manjul Prateeti - Sharing Our Vision for a Better World - An Indian Perspective.

GM Educational Delivery and Outdoor Education Professional Development at The Outdoor Education Group. Graduate of Moray House School of Education, University of Edinburgh. Adventure enthusiast and passionate outdoor Joe Harkness - Emotions-focused Nature Connections.

Joe will talk to us about the connections within his multifaceted work in the education sector as a neurodivergent SEND teacher, as an author writing about connecting people with meaningful nature experiences and as a local naturalist. All of which weave together into the rich tapestry he will share with us.

Catrin Thomas - Snow, Science and Penguins - Working in Antarctica.

Catrin says, "This talk will mainly focus on what I do when I venture south every season. A common question I get is 'what do you actually do down there?', so I shall attempt to answer this. In the main, this will provide an overview of the range of projects which is a good opportunity to show some slides to generate much envy! "

Robin Millar, MP for Aberconwy
